MATERNITY & NEWBORN SESSIONS

Who am I? Your new best mate.

If you're after a formal, uptight, serious photographer you better keep googling. If, however, you are up for a bit of fun and a laugh, I'm your girl.

I first picked up a camera as a teenager, and it was love at first click. But having my son Charlie in early 2016 is what really gave me a passion for photography. As a Mum, I know how precious family photos are, and I mean family photos, as in, not just photos of the kids, or the kids and Dad, but everyone, including Mum. When I shoot, it's my mission to give you photos you'll treasure forever.

It might sound strange, but I usually end up becoming friends with the people I photograph. I just can't help it, I love you guys. If I talk a bit too much, please forgive me, I just love having a chat.

What exactly do I do at a newborn session?

Let me tell you. Basically, newborn sessions are all about capturing that OMG WHAT JUST HAPPENED TO US !! feeling, and your baby's soft, downy fur, wrinkly skin and the oxytocin bubble you're all in in the first couple of weeks after your baby is born. Sessions are relaxed and often involve simply hanging out in your house, ogling your baby. I also happen to be a top-notch baby holder, jigglor, patter and shusher.

In terms of style, I like to capture a range of photos, from more posed images of your bubba all wrapped up like a delicious parcel, to some more relaxed lifestyle shots at home and outside. Most photographers will only offer you posed or candid, but I love to give you both - the more the merrier, right?

Newborn sessions take a bit longer than other sessions because there's feeding, changing, and settling to take into account, but it's cool. I've done so many of these sessions, and I've had my own newborn baby, I know what it's like. We won't rush.

After your session you will receive the raddest little USB package containing a whole gallery of individually hand-crafted images ready to print, or share with family.

I heard you offer a free mini maternity shoot if I book you in for a newborn session, is that right?

Yep, you heard right! Maternity mini sessions take place when you're around 34-37 weeks pregnant. They go for 30-45 minutes in one of my secret outdoor locations.

I generally like to shoot on a week night at sunset, as that's when most people are available and the light is awesome.

The nitty gritty and some FAQ

- ◇ Newborn sessions go for 2-3 hours
- ◇ Generally we shoot indoors at your house, but I like to take a few outdoor photos too.
- ◇ Best done in the first week, when both partners are home and the baby is super sleepy, but up to two weeks old is ok.
- ◇ I ask you to warm the space where we'll be shooting, but I also bring a heater, and all the wraps/props required.
- ◇ I accept payments in instalments
- ◇ $150 deposit required to secure booking
- ◇ You'll receive around 60-100 images on a USB
- ◇ Beautiful albums and prints available
- ◇ When you book a newborn shoot you get a FREE mini maternity shoot on a weeknight at sunset.
- ◇ For inspiration about what to wear, check out my Instagram or Facebook to see what other clients have worn.
